Ball's mission is to Color The World. Color The World is not just coloring the world with flowers and plants, but also ensuring that the industry and communities around us are vibrant and healthy. Ball supports hyper-local organizations whose focus is promoting nature, beauty, education, and health in the local community.

What is your organization's Mission Statement? How does your mission connect with Ball's mission?

What geographical community does your organization serve?

What impact does your organization have on your community? (How many people do you serve? What programming do you offer?)

What other non-profit organizations do you partner with?

What opportunities are there for our employees to volunteer with your organization? How do they connect with your organization to do this? Are there group opportunities for volunteering?
