Anywhere You Go! Ball Seed's WebTrack To Go App Now Available

WebTrack To Go gives Ball Seed customers mobile access to real-time inventory, order status, delivery information, and more.

WEST CHICAGO, IL – Thousands of greenhouse professionals trust Ball Seed's WebTrack as the industry's best business management system. From live inventory and product information to order status and document management, WebTrack helps growers across North America reduce desk time and maximize greenhouse time. Now Ball Seed announces the launch of WebTrack To Go, a mobile app with several features to give customers access anywhere, anytime.

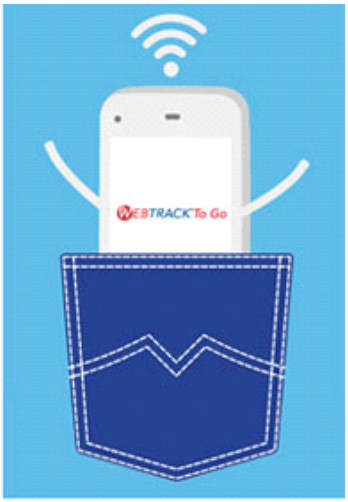

"WebTrack To Go is our new mobile portal to everything Ball Seed sells, and provides growers the information they need while away from their desks," says Mark Morris, Director of IT for Ball Seed. "The WebTrack To Go app is a great tool for your pocket that keeps you connected while on-the-go."

The Ball Seed WebTrack To Go app lets customers:

- Check order status and shipment tracking 24-7.
- Access up-to-the-minute product inventory from hundreds of suppliers.
- Find product info, culture and photos when and where they need it most.
- Upload photos to create and manage claims.

The app will continue to update as more features are developed. Download the WebTrack To Go app for FREE in the Google Play and iTunes stores now, or visit www.webtracktogo.com for more information.
